

Season's Greetings!

Emissions reduction projects reduce the amount of greenhouse gases (GHGs) in the atmosphere by capturing GHGs to prevent their release and either destroying the gas or using it to produce energy from a clean, renewable resource that eliminates the need to produce that same energy from fossil fuels.

Celebrate this holiday season knowing that verified emission reductions have been made on your behalf.

